

News

WEATHER WATCH

Today

Cloudy with outbreaks of light rain and drizzle, possibly heavy at times in the southwest of the region.

Light and variable winds.

Max 8°C (46°F)

Tonight

Cloudy with patchy rain in the evening, becoming dry with clear spells during the early hours. Some mist and fog patches forming later.

Light northwesterly wind.

Min 0°C (32°F)

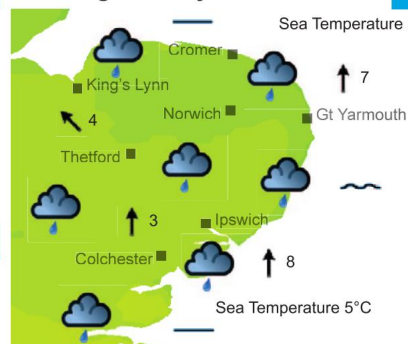

Tomorrow

Any early mist, fog and low cloud will clear to leave most of the day dry and sunny with the risk of an isolated shower.

Light northwesterly wind.

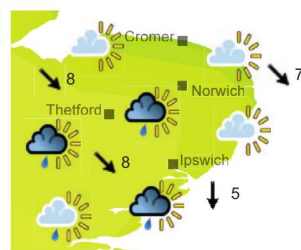

Max 12°C (54°F)

East Anglia Today

Coastal Waters 6am-6pm Today

Wind Southeasterly force 3, becoming variable 1 or 2.
Sea State Smooth or slight.

Forecast by Adam Dury

Sun & Moon

Sun rises: 05.47
Sun sets: 18.14
Moon rises: 09.58
Moon sets: 03.22 Sun
Full moon: 31st March

(Valid for Norwich)

Temperature key °C
(Winds in mph)

Speak directly to one of our forecasters on 09065 77 76 75

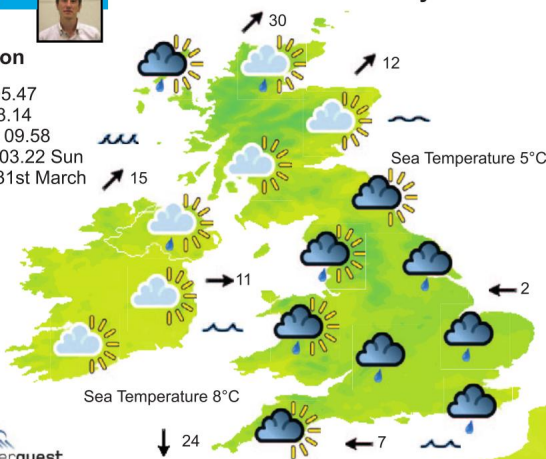

Every day between 6am to 6pm

(calls £1.50/min plus network charges)

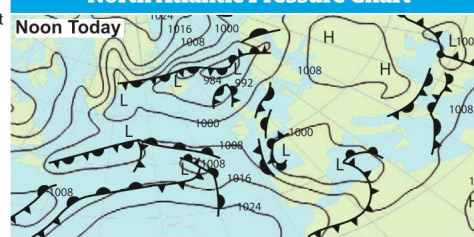

High Tides

	Time	Height (m)	Time	Height (m)
King's Lynn	11:04	5.9	23:37	5.8
Cromer	11:08	4.3	23:43	4.3
Gt Yarmouth	00:38	2.5	13:08	2.3
Lowestoft	01:42	2.4	14:13	2.2
Southwold	02:47	2.4	15:18	2.2
Felixstowe	03:47	3.6	16:21	3.3
Harwich	03:53	3.7	16:30	3.4
W Mersea	04:15	4.8	16:46	4.2

British Isles Today

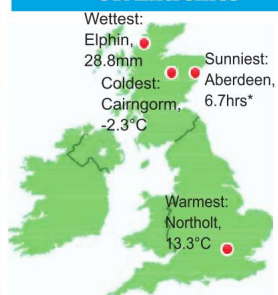

North Atlantic Pressure Chart

Yesterday
East Anglia at Noon

Andrewsfield	12	Cloudy
Bedford	10	Overcast
Cambridge	11	Fair
Holbeach	11	Cloudy
Ipswich	10	Fair
Lakenheath	12	Fair
Lowestoft	11	Fair
Marham	12	Fair
Norwich	11	Fair
Peterborough	11	Cloudy
Shoeburyness	12	Sunny
Stansted	11	Fair
Weybourne	12	Cloudy

Temperatures in °C

UK Extremes

24hr to 4pm yesterday *Previous day

Monday

Most of the day dry with sunny spells, but patchy cloud will bring the risk of a shower. Light northwesterly wind. Max 11°C (52°F)

Tuesday

Cloud and rain clearing first thing to bring a brighter afternoon with showers. Moderate to strong southwesterly wind. Max 11°C (52°F)

Wednesday

Mostly cloudy with scattered showers but also some sunny intervals. Moderate to fresh southwesterly wind. Max 9°C (48°F)

Thursday

Some dry and sunny spells in the morning, but cloud will increase from the south, bringing rain. Moderate southeasterly wind. Max 9°C (48°F)

Around The World Today

Saturday
Amsterdam	8	Cloudy
Athens	15	Sunny
Auckland	22	Showers
Bangkok	36	Fair
Beijing	23	Sunny
Berlin	6	Fair
Cape Town	21	Showers
Copenhagen	4	Drizzle
Corfu	12	Showers
Dubai	31	Sunny
Dublin	12	Fair
Faro	16	Fair
Geneva	10	Sunny
Ibiza	14	Showers
Jersey	9	Fair
Madrid	9	Fair
Majorca	14	Rain
Malta	15	Fair
Mexico City	26	Sunny
Moscow	-3	Fair
Nairobi	27	Fair
New York	7	Sunny
Paris	14	Fair
Prague	8	Fair
Rome	13	Fair
Sao Paulo	32	Fair
Singapore	31	Fair
Stockholm	4	Cloudy
Sydney	26	Fair
Tenerife	19	Showers
Tokyo	16	Fair
Vancouver	8	Showers
Zagreb	9	Fair

Frying off! Sizzling farewell for Battle of the Bangers as city food festival reveals return

The frying pans will be out for a final hurrah as a competition with 14 years of history comes to a close at a Norwich food festival.

The organisers of this year's Norwich Food and Drink Festival have revealed the event will once again take place on Father's Day, which this year falls on Sunday, June 17.

The one-day event, sponsored by Cozens-Hardy solicitors, transforms the Forum, St Peter's Street and Bethel Street in the city centre into a celebration of the county's food and drink industry. And while it will include a smorgasbord of foodie fun and hands-on activities, it will also see the final Battle of the Bangers event.

For 14 years, the county's best butchers have battled it out in the sausage contest to be crowned winner.

Sarah de Chair, chair of

LAUREN COPE

lauren.cope@archant.co.uk

Norfolk Food and Drink, which runs the festival, said: "The Battle of the Bangers has been an integral part of the Norwich Food and Drink Festival for the last 14 years. While the festival may have moved around, grown, shrunk and grown again into the incredible celebration it is today, one thing has remained the same – the Battle of the Bangers."

She said the popular challenge involves more than 1,000lbs of sausage meat every year.

The festival will also include an Adnams Pop-Up Festival bar, The Producers Street Market, which will have more than 40 local food and drink producers, a Foodie Fun Zone for younger visitors, a Street Food Market, cookery demonstrations, Splat the Dad and a look at state-of-the-art farming machinery with Ben Burgess.

Anna Farquharson, marketing principal of Cozens-Hardy, said they were delighted to extend their sponsorship.

"We are passionate advocates of our local food and drink industry - we are proud to have looked after generations of farming families and recognise how valuable the food and drink industry is to Norfolk," she said.

The event has been sponsored by several firms and groups, including Canaccord Genuity Wealth Management, The RedCat Partnership, Lovewell Blake accountants, Creative Sponge, The Forum, Ben Burgess, 101 Smart Messenger, Alison Sparrow Violinist and Norwich Print Solutions.

Anna Stevenson, co-ordinator for Norfolk Food and Drink, gave "sincere thanks" to all those who'd helped make the festival a reality.

A hotdog (Juliet Farrington-Breeze) meets the sponsors of the Norfolk Food and Drink Festival and the last Battle of the Bangers. From left, Chris Solt, Lovewell Blake; Sarah de Chair, festival chairman; Jodie Sibley, Adnams; Anna Farquharson, Cozens-Hardy; Lori Shaw, Lovewell Blake; Kim Sedgwick, Forum, and Paul Pearce, Canaccord Genuity.

Picture: DENISE BRADLEY